Slides Hit Of Show In Pittsburgh

Colored slides of coins were the feature of the Penn-Ohio convention in Pittsburgh's Hotel Webster Hall, May 12-14.

Illustrating a talk by Dr. V. Clain-Stefanelli, Curator of Coins, Smithsonian Institution, were colored slides of coins in the U.S. Mint and Smithsonian collections.

Three numismatic seminars were given, one each day of the affair, in which colored slides were shown.

The three-day regional convention hosted by the Pittsburgh Numismatic Society, drew 3,193 paid registrations. More than 5,000 coin enthusiasts thronged the bourse and exhibit areas. Duane H. Feisel is president of the Pittsburgh Society.

Dr. Clain-Stefanelli spoke on the rare coins in the national collection at the banquet attended by 190 numismatists Sunday, May 14.

John Pittman, Rochester, N. Y., won the B. Max Mehl memorial trophy donated by the Professional Numismatists Guild as best-in-show award for his display of Canadian coins.

Irving Moskovitz, Detroit, won the second best-of-show award and a plaque. Gaston DiBello, Buffalo, won third best-of-show and received a plaque.

Winners in each of the categories were:

U. S. Coins: First, Gaston DiBello, Buffalo; second, Dr. James O. Sloss, Beaver, Pa.; third, John J. Pittman, Rochester; honorable mention, William L. Carson, Chardon, Ohio.

Nation's Leading Numismatists Seek A. N. A. Governor Positions

Dr. C. A. Bolt

Dr. C. A. Bolt, who seeks election as a member of the Board of Governors of the American Numismatic Association, does not call his seven-point series of suggestions a "political platform" but comments and observations.

The Marshville, N. C., physician, who is currently serving as president of the Middle Atlantic Numismatic Association, lists the suggestions he endorses as follows:

1. Establishment of permanent headquarters for A.N.A., centrally located. "To have our own home would require work and support of all members," said Dr. Bolt.

2. A full-time executive secretary, qualified and familiar with the field. This would not necessarily change any of the existing elective offices.

3. Increase the Board of Governors (probably by two or more) with some thought of regions or districts, and having some elected at large.

4. Establish or create new sections when deemed necessary and to strengthen then existing ones (as library, visual aids, etc.)

5. An educational campaign to

Ray O. Lefman

"Best evidence of his sincere interest in the advancement of numismatics is indicated by his work in organizing and directing the activities of young persons interested in coin collecting and study in the Kansas City area."

The executive board of the Heart of American Numismatic Association, Kansas City, Mo., today pointed out a series of qualifications such as the one above as they nominated Roy O. Lefman for an American Numismatic Association Board of Governors' post.

"Lefman has proven, many times over, to be the dynamic force that has projected our organization from a loose-knit group of 30 to a nationally known club with one of the largest memberships in the nation," the officials of the Missouri club said.

Lefman has served as president of the Heart of America Association, the club was awarded first place in

Arthur Sipe

Arthur Sipe, candidate for the American Numismatic Association's Board of Governors, declared from his Drexel Hill, Pa., home that he will "continue to rid our ranks of unlawful and unethical practices on the part of unscrupulous interests."

Sipe said if he is re-elected he will also continue to support the A.N.A. constitution and by-laws as he has done during the past four years. He promised to continue to uphold the very best interests of "our mutual hobby" with the upmost of his ability and experience.

The Philadelphian said it will always be his aim to promote the hobby as an interest for young people in high schools and younger groups through the formation of junior coin clubs.

Sipe, who is associated with Proctor and Gamble, has been an A.N.A. member since 1935 (No. 5401), and he has served two terms as a member of the Board of Governors, from 1957 to 1959 and from 1959 to 1961.

He has served on the A.N.A. Heath literary awards committee, and as chairman of the educational program committees at the

E. Ward Russell

E. Ward Russell, Silver Spring, Md., numismatist, and American Numismatic Association Board of Governors candidate, headlines his platform with two major proposals to make the A.N.A. an even more outstanding organization and to increase its value to the American people as a whole.

He proposes that the Association appoint a numismatic committee for the purpose of consulting with and advising legislative bodies that are considering bills and proposals of a numismatic nature.

"This would give A.N.A. a part in determining the commemorative coins and medals that would be authorized by the federal and state governments," said Russell.

"I am sure that in a very short time the various congressional committees would be seeking assistance from such a committee," the numismatist said.

He advocates that the A.N.A. issue at least one outstanding medal each year. They could be either struck or, on occasion, the age-old method of casting could be employed, Russell said.

"They could be issued in connection with some worthwhile

Dr. Bolt . . .

acquaint members of the A.N.A. with the operation of the organization and to encourage them to vote in the elections through affiliated clubs, the Numismatist, or otherwise.

6. Lobbying in Congress and elsewhere for protective legislation in regards altering, defacing, counterfeiting, etc., of coins.

7. Striving continually for fair, clean, non-partisan numismatics on the same high plane as envisioned by our founders.

Dr. Bolt said:

"The A.N.A. has grown immensely in the 23 years that I have been a member, but for the last few years it is growing by leaps and bounds, as evidenced by each issue of the Numismatist.

"Some reorganization and long-range planning will be necessary soon to keep pace with this rapid growth."

Dr. Bolt says he has been a student of numismatics and a collector since he was about 15 years of age when his father gave him some coins that he had acquired after the death of his father (Dr. Bolt's grandfather). In this there were several pieces that were not in circulation at this time—a half cent, 3 or 4 large cents, a two-cent piece, a half dime or two, an 1828 25c piece plus a few Civil War tokens.

To earn these Dr. Bolt was supposed to write up all that he could find about these for him.

This was his first acquaintance with Max Mehl's Star Coin Encyclopedia which called for the large expense of $1 from his small allowance. Very little was added to this collection for a period of three or four years except a few odd coins and some foreign coins given him by friends.

However, Indian head cents were plentiful in circulation and Dr. Bolt still has the first set of these completed from circulation which he prizes now more than ever.

He was fortunate to have a good friend who worked as cashier in the local bank and he would give Dr. Bolt an occasional coin. His capital was very limited even during his college and medical school days so his collection grew slowly.

However, his friendship with the bank cashier paid off for he learned that he could go to the banks and get their "junk box" coins usually at face and enjoyed these for a period of about nine years as each would be different.

In this way, Dr. Bolt obtained a lot of "junk" that he was ashamed to show until about 1950, when "mint errors" came to the front. Then, to his surprise, he began to find out that he probably had as large a collection of mint and numismatic errors as anyone in this country after showing at Kansas City, Portland, Atlantic City, Springfield, St. Petersburg, Harrisburg and Boston.

This has labeled Dr. Bolt as a "freak collector" even though he calls himself a "bona fide" numismatist.

After graduating from medicine, he began work in this area and became very interested in the history of gold mining in North Carolina section as well as the history of the Bechtlers and their coins, the Charlotte Mint and the Dahlonega Mint.

His real joy was directed toward collecting large currency and becoming a real student of this beautiful series. The work of the engraving, the texture of the paper, the detail of the pictures, and the clear historical scenes on the obverse and reverse of each are simply work of masters in the art, Dr. Bolt declared. "No student of our large currency will deny this," he said "and I still marvel at how much work was required on such plates."

His association with organized numismatics began when he joined the A.N.A. when Vernon Sheldon was the secretary, holding membership card No. 7351. For several of these early years he served as North Carolina, secretary to the A.N.A. when such secretaries were appointed. He was nominated in 1959 for the Board of Governors, but he declined as time was limited for him to qualify and getting before friends and collectors.

In 1938, with the help of a few other collectors, Dr. Bolt helped in organizing the Charlotte Coin Club and held card No. 17; now he has been made Life Member No. 2 by the club. He has served three terms as the president of this club—1940, 1959, and 1960. He aided in organization of the Monroe (N. C.) Coin Club in his home county, holds membership No. 1 and is still a director of this club.

He aided and helped organize the North Carolina Coin Clubs' Association, holds charter membership card No. 96 and is still a director of this group. He also aided in the organization of the Blue Ridge Numismatic Association (the South Carolina State Association), is still a director, and holds membership card No. 14. He is also a member of F. U. N., the Alabama Numismatic Society, the Palmetto Coin Club (Columbia, S. C.), and the Gaffney (S. C.) Coin Club.

He became a member of the Collectors of Mint Errors (now Collectors of Numismatic Errors) a few years ago and in Portland (1959) he was elected vice-president when no one appeared to M. C. this meeting. In Boston, 1960, he was elected president of this group when his good friend Harry Forman refused to serve a second term.

He is charter member No. 543 of M.A.N.A., and was elected as delegate-at-large in Atlantic City (1959), at the annual convention. However, at the December business meeting in Washington the same year, he was elected first vice president. In December, 1960, at MANA's business meeting Dr. Bolt was elected president.

"My wife tells me that I am not a physician (or doctor) but only a "numismatist", smiled Dr. Bolt. "It is my 'second life' and there is nothing I like better, organizing new coin clubs and advising collectors, especially young collectors.

I do own a fairly large numismatic library and have complete sets of the Numismatist as well as the Numismatic Scrapbook. It is great endeavoring to classify coins or patterns unlisted. The only thing I regret that I parted company with my original 1913 Liberty Head Nickel which has been recently named the Bolt Nickel, now owned by George Walton.

Dr. Bolt graduated from the Medical College of South Carolina in 1926 and served as a senior interne in Roper Hospital (Charleston, S. C.) to July 1, 1927. He began general practice with nose and throat and completed 34 successful years of practice of medicine in Marshville July 1, 1960, his office was closed and he became full-time Health Director of Union County (N. C.). He is a member of the A.M.A.; the Southern Medical Association, the N. C. Medical Society and the Union County Medical Society (N. C.). He has served as president of the latter group and is now the secretary-treasurer.

Dr. Bolt belongs to the Marshville Presbyterian Church. He is clerk of the Session and assistant superintendent of the Sunday School. He has been a Mason since 1927 and an active member of Beaverdam Lodge No. 276 and a member of the Lion's Club. He has served two terms as president and as director.

The North Carolina numismatist is now chairman of the board of the Mutual Bank and Trust Company and has served as president. He married Martha Seabrook of Charleston, S. C., in 1928. They have one son, Conway A. Bolt Jr., who is now a microwave engineer of Westinghouse.

Famed $20 Gold Piece Donated To Smithsonian

The Smithsonian Institution announced today the donation by Cornelius Van S. Roosevelt of Washington, D. C., of an experimental high-relief double eagle or $20 gold piece, dated 1907, designed by Augustus Saint-Gaudens at the request of President Theodore Roosevelt.

This is one of the great rarities of the United States coin series and has in addition an unusual historical connotation since it was owned originally by Theodore Roosevelt, who had devoted considerable efforts toward its design and production.

In fact, in the winter of 1905, Theodore Roosevelt met at a dinner in Washington with Augustus Saint-Gaudens whose sculptures the president admired greatly. The conversation drifted to the beauty of ancient Greek coins, described by Saint-Gaudens as almost the only coins of real artistic merit. Why could not the United States have coins as beautiful as the Greek ones, the president wished to know. If Saint-Gaudens would model them, he, the president, would cause them to be minted.

Thus started a unique venture in modern monetary history. Manifesting once more his versatility and extraordinary energy, Theodore Roosevelt found the time to conduct personally the campaign for a more artistic series of United States coinage designs. On November 6, 1905, the president said in a letter to Saint-Gaudens regarding these designs:

"I want to make a suggestion. It seems to me worth a try for a really good coinage; though I suppose there will be a revolt about it! I was looking at some gold coins of Alexander the Great today, and I was struck by their high relief. Would it not be well to have our coins in high relief, and also to have the rims raised? The point of having the rims raised would be, of course, to protect the figure on the coin; and if we have the figures in high relief, like the figures on the old Greek coins, they will surely last longer. What do you think of this?"

For two years president and sculptor gave much time and energy to the task of producing the new coin designs. The models finally adopted for the double eagle were of unusual artistic merit. The obverse showed a standing figure of "Liberty," holding aloft in her right hand the torch of enlightenment and in the left the olive branch of peace. On the reverse side was a rendering of a flying eagle above a rising sun.

A few experimental pieces having an extremely high relief were struck at the president's order. These exceedingly rare pieces can be easily distinguished from the ones issued later for general circulation, and also having a very high relief.

The field of the rare experimental pieces is excessively concave and connects directly with the edge without any border, giving it a sharp knife-like appearance; the Liberty's skirt shows on side of right leg two folds; the Capitol building in the background at left is very small; the date, 1907, is in Roman numerals. The sun, on the reverse side, has 14 rays.

In addition to these experimental pieces, 11,250 high-relief $20 gold pieces were struck on a medal press for general distribution and may be found today in many collections. Their relief is somewhat lower than that of the experimental pieces. Around the edge they have a border; the Liberty's skirt has three folds on side of right leg; the Capitol building is considerably larger; the date, 1907, is indicated in Roman numerals. On the reverse, there are only 13 rays extending from the sun.

For practical reasons and especially since these high-relief coins could not be struck on a regular coin press and would not stack, it was decided soon to revert to the customary flat relief. A large number of similar flat-relief double eagles were issued in 1907 (these pieces show the date in Arabic numerals) and in later years up to 1933, when the issuance of gold coins was discontinued.

Theodore Roosevelt's $20 gold piece, donated by Cornelius Van S. Roosevelt, will be placed on permanent display in the Smithsonian Institution's new hall of monetary history. It should remind us of the President's words about this piece:

"Certain things were done of which the economic bearing was more remote but which bore directly upon our welfare, because they add to the beauty of living and therefore to the joy of life."

Display In Ohio

In observance of National Coin Week, the Tri-County Coin Club of St. Marys, Ohio, arranged an elaborate display of coins in the window of Williams Jewelers in Celina, Ohio. The exhibit also helped to publicize the Tri-County club's Coin Show held a week later in St. Marys.

Life Begins At Eighty-Six

Life begins at 80—or over—at least for Fred E. Farnham, 86, and his wife, Mildred, who recently opened a coin and stamp shop in Kalamazoo, Mich. They had been in the stamp business previously, but retired, and then served as department heads in Doubleday Brothers' store. Now they have started out again in business for themselves, under the name Kalamazoo Stamp and Coin Shop, at 412 South Burdick, in the State Theatre building. As a Detroit stamp dealer for 20 years, Farnham sold stamps to Adolph Menjou, coin collecting film star. He once aided customs officials to prosecute an alien who had smuggled rare stamps from Canada. Farnham retired in 1950, the first time.

celebration or to commemorate an event in history or a particular person, place or thing," he continued.

Russell suggested that the medals could be available to the general public, but that A.N.A. members could secure them for the cost of production for a limited time after release.

The Maryland candidate holds Membership No. 11194 in the A.N.A. He holds Member No. 2 in both the Middle Atlantic Numismatic Association and the Gettysburg Numismatic Society. He is A.N.A. representative for the latter organization, and is serving on the Gettysburg Centennial Medal committee.

He was a charter member of the Silver Spring Coin Club, the Montgomery County Coin Club, the Junior Coin Club of Washington, D. C.

A founding and charter member of the Society of Tokens, Medals and Obsolete Paper Money Collectors, Russell is also an editorial staff member of this group. He is a founder-corporate member of the Middle Atlantic Numismatic Association.

Russell is a life member of the Phoenix Coin Club and coin counselor of the Boy Scouts of America.

He has been president and vice president of the Washington Numismatic Society, vice president of M.A.N.A.; president and vice president of the Gettysburg Numismatic Society.

His A.N.A. activities include National Coin Week Chairman in 1953; a member of the election committee in 1950, the proxy committee in 1951; Washington A.N.A. representative the same year; and he won first award for his exhibit at the A.N.A. convention in 1955. He won second award in National Coin Week competition in 1951.

Russell was general chairman of the M.A.N.A. Inaugural convention in 1953, and chairman of the Washington area National Coin Week in 1951. He was a member of the United States Assay Commission in 1954, appointed by President Dwight Eisenhower.

Russell is employed as an electrical equipment specialist in the U. S. Geological Survey, Department of the Interior, Washington, D. C.

A native of Cumberland, Md., the candidate was born in 1916. He first became interested in coin collecting at the age of eight.

Through the years he has become increasingly active in the numismatic world and has assisted others in getting started in this educational hobby through his buying, selling and appraisal service.

Among his most noteworthy accomplishments are his extensive collections of Swiss coins and of Civil War cents. His interest of Civil War coinage has led him to the discovery of many new varieties of patriotic Civil War tokens and merchant store cards.

Show And Exhibits Are Club Project

The Coin Club of Elmhurst, Ill., observed National Coin Week with a display in the First National Bank of Elmhurst. It also had exhibits in Elmhurst's 50th Anniversary Fair, and in stores located in the Elmhurst area.

Early in May, the club put on its Third Annual Coin Show at the Odd Fellows Hall. Exhibits, auction, and dealers' tables marked the event.

Membership in the Coin Club of Elmhurst is open only to persons of junior high and high school age. It supports a non-profit coin store, and one of the best libraries in the area, according to president John Baumrucker and librarian Charles Rudolph. Its members come from Lombard and Villa Park, as well as Elmhurst.

This club is the older of the two in Elmhurst, the Tree Towns Coin Club having been formed only last January.

Currency May Change Color!

The time may be coming when a person can walk into a bank, toss down a $20 bill and say, "give me a blue, a red and five greens."

Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, U. S. treasurer, said recently that studies are being conducted by the Secret Service and the Bureau of Engraving on the idea of changing the color of currency from its present green to some sparkling hues.

She said the change would provide convenience in the handling of currency because the various denominations could be distinguished by color.

"The biggest problem involves ink and color chemicals," she said. "When we decide on something permanent, we will let the public know."

Dealers Oath Needed?

"I seem to belong to that rapidly vanishing group who indulge in numismatics purely as a hobby rather than for profit," writes a doctor from Greenville, Mississippi.

Dick Johnson

"I am not and have no desire to be a dealer, investor or speculator. All of us, however, have occasional duplicates which we would like to trade or sell, and this is largely the story of my unhappy experience at the recent annual convention of the Arkansas Numismatic Society when I had occasion to try to dispose of such a coin."

The doctor goes on to describe an uncirculated Buffalo nickel that he tried to place in the auction. Several dealers disagreed upon the condition but finally accepted it.

"During the hour that I wasted with these dealers, several of them severely criticized every dealer I named from whom I had bought coins and even hinted that some of the dealers at the convention itself 'had to be watched'."

What the doctor describes in his letter has been repeated at almost every convention. He recognizes that first rate dealers do not partake of such petty practices but that a great many dealers do.

"Most of these dealers would make very poor salesmen indeed in any other field if they believe this is the way to 'make friends and influence people'."

Of all the doctor's observations, the following is the most candid and to the point:

"Most important of all, however, is the lack of any kind of ethics among these dealers. We physicians, as well as other professional groups, know better than to make irresponsible or derogatory remarks about our colleagues, for it is an extremely short-sighted individual who does not realize that such remarks serve only to undermine the public's confidence in the profession as a whole."

What the doctor says is true! Certainly it is permissible for dealers to be competitive but this does not give them permission to criticize another man's coins or another dealer. Suggested dealer conduct is given in the Perfect Coin Dealer editorial in the March 9 issue.

While coin dealers do not have to serve an internship, pass an examination, or receive a license to do business, maybe it would be a good thing to have a Hippocratic oath for them to accept.

No Wholesale!

While we are reading letters let's answer one question that crops up frequently: "Where can I buy coins wholesale?"

Like Santa Claus, there is no wholesale coin dealer. Some dealers do grant a quantity discount on the purchase of a large volume of coins—particularly late date rolls—but there is no one source to buy coins wholesale.

The normal channel of coins is: collector to dealer and dealer to collector. Dealers buy the bulk of their stock from other dealers, however, and are the largest buyers at coin auctions. So the channel has been changed somewhat for coins to pass from several dealers' hands before finally residing in the final collector's cabinet.

This also points out that the margin of profit in this field frequently is extremely small. Some coins sell between dealers for less than a dollar per coin profit on expensive coins.

Buying coins and replenishing their stock is a dealer's constant concern. Basically there are three sources, none of which is wholesale: other dealers, here and abroad; collectors, entire collections or duplicates; and the public.

Coins cannot be manufactured in the customary manner in which we think of usual merchandise, so the concept of wholesale does not exist for coins.

Letters To The Editor

As an advertising man, I must comment on the complaints you've published re the raising of your space rates. .... If some of these people would study the principles of advertising, they would realize that, cost PER READER has actually gone down.

Is it better to pay $10 for an ad that 100 persons will see, or $100 for an ad that 10,000 persons will see? Let's not be silly. Anyone should know that advertising costs are figured on readership.

Let me say that if I were to sell coins, that Coin World would figure largely in my Media Planning.

(If your advertisers don't realize the way this BASIC principle of Media Buying works, then I suggest you prepare a pamphlet which demonstrates this to even the least business-minded advertiser. When I entered the advertising business, I didn't understand the way this worked, but one day, it finally hit me like a ton of bricks, so to speak.

A Madison Avenue
Fugitive of Florida
(Name furnished on request)

How about publishing a letter from someone who isn't gushing great gouts of pure unadulterated joy about your paper.

It is a good paper for me and those others who are interested in technical and historical matters pertaining to coins and numismatics generally. We don't buy 'em or sell 'em (don't you hate us!), we study them.

Now, why must you aggravate us almost to death by constantly referring to technical articles printed in your paper months and months ago? We couldn't ALL be original subscribers, yet you constantly say, as in the issue of April 27, page 53, "If you can get a copy of the October 27 issue of 'Coin World' read....." Now where in h— or anywhere else can I get a six-month old issue of a small-circulation, restricted topic newspaper? Can YOU sell me one? Can you? I'll buy it!

So, finally, my suggestion. Instead of annoying us with this "see our May issue of 1960" routine, PLEASE REPRINT THESE INFORMATIVE ARTICLES WE HAVE MISSED. Never mind that your journalism prof said it is bad practice. Do it. Soon.

Harold Storch
Anaheim, Calif.

Just a little comment regarding the cost of your advertisements. If I had a fine paper like your's, and I was making the other publications get on the ball as you are doing, and if I was outselling all in such a short time, I would do the same.....

Samuel H. Jillette
Greenfield, Mass.

It may be of service to collectors to inform them of the following. I recently had to pay duty of 30 per cent of value plus the customs fee for some medals purchased from a Canadian firm. It shocks you when you don't expect it (a $3 medal for example can cost you an additional 90c plus 30c customs fee, a total of $4.20 for what you thought was going to cost $3.)

Despite what any advertising may be made to mislead one, the law states that duty must be paid on all medals less than 100 years old whether from Canada or any country outside our borders.

While a shipment may get through occasionally because of list of contents not being specific, and all packages are evidently not opened, yours may be the one inspected and thus, be prepared to shell out the extra cost if you want to get your package from the postman.

Compliments on Coin World you need like another set of ears, but cherish them when they come from such as I, since I'm not a Letters To the Editor fanatic except in unusual circumstances where I may be of aid to the hobby and its pursuers.

Fantastic, terrific; these best describe the ever flowing issues. The Civil War issue even exceed these words.

Raymond J. Weihaus
Princeton, N. J.

(Editor's note—Advertiser has been contacted and advised Coin World that out of 500 or 600 shipments made in the past five years, only three complaints had been made and they thought those were just isolated cases in districts where the customs officers were not familiar with the regulations. The advertiser in question has taken steps to correct the situation as a result of Mr. Weihaus' letter, a copy of which was brought to their attention.)

You should read your mail before you print the letter. Re—the Soviet revaluation of the ruble (no, I mean rubble). The announcement that the currency was going down 10 to one would have been sufficient, but when you went ahead and printed a whole column of propaganda, that was too much.

Any person who collects coins is a capitalist, and more so if he keeps the coins after he collects them, which would make him a prime subject for Soviet target practice.

You have a nice paper and I surely think you will go places with it, but read the stuff first, especially from the Soviet Embassy.

Everett K. Higgins
Pacific Grove, Calif.

I am wondering why we don't hear more about the medium date cents and the small date nickels? I have the so-called medium date cents and the small date nickels. I can hardly tell a difference, if any, between the large and medium date cent. Could they possibly be more rare than the small date? If not, why don't we hear more about them?

Re: Proof sets in sealed envelopes!

It has come to my attention in buying and selling of proof sets sealed from the U. S. Mint in Philadelphia, Pa., that the envelope must not be opened in order to sell to some A.N.A. dealers.

This is unfair to me as you are to inspect the coins as they arrive to be sure you get what you want!

Secondly, why do the dealers sell proof sets in plastic containers? Who is to believe these came as proofs from the Mint?

Third, how are we to know if there are one, two, three, four, five sets in a sealed brown envelope?

Fourth, how can we sell one, two or three sets separately without breaking brown sealed envelopes? Please explain. Thank you for your wonderful newspaper.

Henry Siwek
New Haven, Conn.

Why your raise in minimum ad price? I feel that you are hurting and stopping the smaller collectors who are probably the majority of your readers. Most of us don't have enough coins to trade or sell to profit sufficiently to pay the $2 minimum price.

No doubt you have become the largest and fastest growing coin publication because of your consideration of the smaller coin hobbyist collectors. So, please go back to your former ad charges!

I wish to praise your crusade against coin thefts and frauds. This is a major step in permanently securing coin collecting as a major hobby of the world.

"Coin World" is truly the most outstanding paper in its field! Thank you.

Xavier Proenza

I was VERY well pleased with the results of my ads that were run in your paper. I keep a record of all sales that are received directly from advertising and your paper averaged approximately eight times the results of the other publications. Now you see why I am so pleased.

Chittock Robbery Victim At Penn-Ohio Convention

Fred Chittock, Youngstown, Ohio, had a collection of political items, coins and obsolete currency stolen along with a suitcase of clothes from his car May 11 at the Penn-Ohio coin convention, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Part of the coins and obsolete currency was recovered by the Pittsburgh police. However, the political items are still missing.

Taking six years to collect, the political items included tinctures, cardboard and celluloid buttons. A collection of 144 historical American tokens and a display case of Nazi items were included. "You can't replace the political buttons even with money," Chittock said.

The theft occurred between 7:30 and 9:30 o'clock on the evening previous to the opening of the convention.

A strong-arm duo of juveniles took a coin folder and $8 in change from 11-year-old Bobby Epstein, East Rochester, N. Y., as he gazed at a window display at the Bauer Coin Shop.

The pair asked to see his coin book under his arm; then they ran with it. Bobby took chase. They stopped and offered him the book. Then they held him and took $8 from his pocket. The money was a birthday gift; Bobby had planned to buy two Flying eagle cents with it.

A former Minneapolis man is being sought for buying more than $1,300 worth of rare coins with bad checks at the recent Central States Numismatic Society convention in Minneapolis.

Police said the man, identified as John R. Higgins, 36, purchased coins from dealers at the convention, and paid for them with checks drawn on a Des Moines, Iowa, bank.

The dealers were B. M. O'Hea, San Francisco, and Sidney W. Smith, Miami. Police said Higgins gave Smith a check for $500 and O'Hea two checks, one for $410 and the other for $445.

Higgins whose last known Minneapolis address was 3115 N. 5th Street, has been sought since 1957 on a bad check charge in Minneapolis.

O'Hea's attorney offers a $200 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of Higgins. The law firm address is Hersch and Hadfield, 1255 Post Street, San Francisco, 8, Calif.

Higgins is described as five feet, eight inches tall, stocky build, weight about 190 to 200 pounds, age about 36, and he wears horn rim glasses.

A $2,000 coin collection was taken by safe crackers from the S. Cas Johnson Service Station in Amarillo, Texas. Checks and credit cards were left behind.

Police are investigating the theft of coins valued at $6,000 from Pat Padula, Stockton, Calif.

Padula said the coins began disappearing last October from a safe in his garage. The money was spent in North Stockton, police said. Juveniles are suspected.

Paul E. Lehman Jr. reported to police a $100 coin collection was stolen from his South Bend, Ind., home.

Donald Gill, Goshen, Ind., reported to sheriff's officials his $100 coin collection was missing from his rural home.

Herbert S. Pergin, operator of a coin and stamp shop in Pomona, Calif., reports $750 in rare coins and stamps were stolen from the store. The theft involved 1,500 items.

Old coins and two pints of whiskey were stolen from the home of James E. Wilson, Wilmington, Del., recently.

Ancient Sword Used For Money

Peter Payne, San Bernadino, Calif., numismatist traced the history of coinage for members of the Pass Coin Club of Banning, Calif., when they met recently at the Repplier Park Playhouse.

Payne displayed a sword 3,000 years old that was once used in buying and selling. He said token coins came into being in 100 BC and told his listeners there are references to coins in the Book of Genesis in the Bible.

Harry Moore program chairman introduced the speaker. Payne also served as the auctioneer for the sale of coins during the evening.

Jack Kesner presided at the business session of the club. Special prizes went to Lester Payne. There were exhibits by Harry Moore, Lester Payne and Charles Chievers.

Included in the membership are the father and son team of Lester Payne and sons James and John; the husband and wife team of Donald and Donna Laubsch; the mother and daughter team of Olga and Esther Urdane and the brother and sister team of Maggie and Joe Wihnyk.

Bob Hargrave served the refreshments.

Recently, the members voted to join the American Numismatic Association, and discussed the club's by-laws. A moving picture, "Operation Abolition", was shown by Wally Jenks of the Riverside County Sheriff's Department. Visitors included:

Mrs. L. D. Corbett, Beaumont; Bob Compton, Banning; George Westlake, Banning; Mrs. I. Lindermayor, Beaumont; Walter Anderson, San Bernardino; Robert Kincaid, Hemet; Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Snyder, Los Angeles; and Mrs. J. C. Rubalcava and Eileen and Andrea, all of Banning.

Swap night for the club will be held May 27, starting at 7 p.m.

Bank Exhibit Held

The Midwest Numismatic Association of Hickman Mills, Mo., observed National Coin Week with exhibits in the Hickman Mills bank. Participating were Clarence Gould, club president, and George Rea and Bill Marksman.

Trends Of Today's Coin Values

Auctions Indicate Upward Trend

By Jim Kelly

333 West First St., Dayton 2, Ohio

We have just returned from the Penn-Ohio Convention in Pittsburgh which, from every aspect, was an outstanding success. The auction sale which we conducted was exceptionally well attended, with spirited bidding indicating a firm and upward market.

Jim Kelly

All U. S. minor coins were in demand and sold at good prices after considerable competition. The only weakness we noticed was in the circulated modern silver coins in less than very fine condition.

Late U. S. Gold coins, in ordinary condition, were selling slightly below the expected price. This was somewhat offset by very good prices on the gold dollars, quarter eagles and $3.00 pieces. Commemorative half dollars were probably the strongest and most sought-after series in the sale.

What happened at Pittsburgh, according to many dealers, is a repetition of business conditions at the Central States convention in Minneapolis, as well as in New York at the Manhattan meeting, all sessions held during the past three weeks.

This, to me, indicates a very definite upward trend in the price of quality numismatic material and barring an unforeseen catastrophe, should continue throughout 1961.

The new and revised Guide (Red) Book which should be on the market by June 1st, will no doubt further stimulate the trend toward higher prices.

In case you think we are overenthusiastic, just bear in mind that there are no more early coins or currency available today, with close to five million active collectors, than there were twenty-five years ago when it was estimated that approximately 100,000 people collected coins in the United States.

The 1957 Proof Sets, with over a million struck, was considered a ridiculous coinage. Still there is only one set for every four collectors. Here's hoping we continue to grow—not just grow bigger, but better!

A journalistic treatment of National Coin Week was this display at the Flossmoor, Ill., Public Library, arranged by the Club of Illinois Numismatists.

Illinois Club One Year Old

The Club of Illinois Numismatists (C. O. I. N.) of Homewood, Ill., celebrated its first birthday by entering the competition for National Coin Week honors with exhibits of coins and paper money.

Exhibits were located in the windows of Boymen's store, the Book and Gift Shop, Homewood Bakery, Homewood Travel agency, the Homewood Star office, Olympia State bank, and Flossmoor public library.

In charge of the club's observance was Mrs. Lois Otis.

Juniors Arrange Coin Show

Olive To Exhibit At Show

H. V. Olive of Spring Valley, Ill., displays an exhibit of fractional currency, medals and Lincolniana he was scheduled to show at the La Salle - Peru Jaycees Sport and Hobby Show at Skaters Junction May 20-21. A special coin section was arranged by the show with a coin, antique and hobby auction scheduled for Sunday, May 21, at p. m. An 1909-S VDB cent and such key coins as the 1914-D cent was scheduled to be sold. A wooden nickel commemorating the event was to be distributed. The show was set to open at 2 p. m. each day and run until 10 p. m. on Saturday and 9 p. m. on Sunday.

Display At Lewistown Bank

William Frohm pauses in the Russell National Bank, Lewistown, Pa., to inspect a display of coins and currency exhibited during National Coin Week. Frohm's son, Robert, and granddaughter, Betty Lou Stence, are thinking of the ice cream cones the money would buy . . .

Spoonholtz Michigan Winner

A rare coin shown here by Louis Spoonholtz is admired by Albert Brobophy and, seated, John Oldtz, Galesburg, Mich., and Ohlean George Marshall at the recent Kalamazoo, Mich., Coin Show. Spoonholtz won best of show award for his collection of gold coins. The Climax Coin Club sponsored the show, assisted by the Cereal City Coin Club and the Kalamazoo Coin Club. There were 12 exhibits and 30 dealers from Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

More than 1,300 visitors attended the First Annual Kalamazoo County Coin Convention sponsored during National Coin Week by the Climax, Mich., Coin Club, according to a report this week from Mrs. Norm Schallberg, general chairman.

Top award for exhibits went to Louis Spoonholtz of Grand Rapids, Mich., for his gold display entitled "Coins of Yesteryear", which earned him "Best in Show". First prize winners in five categories were as follows:

Mint errors, James Hurlburt, Battle Creek, Mich.; Coin arrangement, Al Bobrasky, Battle Creek; World coins, Norm Schallberg, Climax; and Canadian collection and U. S. coins, both to Victor L. Sandlin, South Bend, Ind.

The Climax Junior Coin Club took first prize for junior exhibits. Bourse tables were occupied by 20 dealers. Harley Skinner served as assistant chairman.

Firms Display Coins

Six Santa Rosa, Calif., business places cooperated with the Redwood Empire Coin Club by having coin exhibits in their windows during National Coin Week. Reports were made at the May meeting of the club, at which Paul Snedaker, secretary of the Pacific Coast Numismatic Society of San Francisco, was a guest.

Name From Numbers

The thin numbers of the Maundy money of 1792, struck during the reign of George III, gave this issue the name of wire money.

Fair To Very Fine Writing Readers Gratify; All Letters Get Attention

By James G. Johnson
Several readers have written in reply to various matters discussed in this column and Collectors Clearinghouse from time to time. It is encouraging to feel that what I say gets an occasional reaction, and that I am not just writing to a blank wall or to people who are not interested. From experience, I know that it takes more than an average amount of interest to make a person sit down and write a comment or answer to something they read.

I frequently read a story or article in a newspaper or magazine which makes me react one way or another, but not nearly as frequently do I actually put that reaction into words on paper and send them to the editor.

If I don't do it right at the time, then I probably will not do it at all, and if paper and pen or typewriter are not handy when I read the item, then the letter probably will not get written, unless I am really stirred up.

So I know that when one of you writes a letter it means more than just a casual interest in what you have read; it means that the subject is pretty close to your mind and you have something you really want to say about it.

Knowing that, I read all the mail that gets to me, because if somebody took the trouble to write it, the writer deserves to be read. I may not do anything about a particular letter right away, because something else has to be done first, but no letter has been thrown away by me, yet.

Recently I wrote a paragraph about Jimmy Vest, a young collector who spends part of his time in a wheel chair, and who wanted some collectors his own age to write to. Several boys did write in, and their letters were forwarded within a few days. You boys have my thanks.

That matter of forwarding mail to someone mentioned in this column or in the Clearinghouse brings up a point. Several readers have written about the 1828 half dollar mentioned recently and pictured, saying they wrote to Mr. Anderson in McKinney, Texas, in regard to coins they have.

I don't know whether Anderson got their letters, since mail addressed merely to a man in a city is not often delivered these days. The Post Office wants street addresses and in most cities it won't give "directory service" which means that it will not check up on addresses. If the address is not clear, the letter will be returned to the sender.

It is against Coin World's policy to print the street addresses of collectors, for the protection of those collectors, unless the person

Accident Mars Recent Show

No less than seven 1856 Flying Eagle cents were on exhibit at the eighth annual Coin Show sponsored early in May by the Juniata Valley Coin Club of Altoona, Pa., in Duncansville, Pa., according to a report from Frank Corrado, club vice president.

Other featured displays included a complete set of uncirculated and proof 20 cent coins, a complete set of uncirculated Commemorative half dollars, Civil War tokens, Encased Postage stamps, and Confederate money.

Highlight of the auction was the sale of an unusual piece, a 1936 half dollar in proof, for $76 on a catalogue valuation of $117. Approximately 900 persons attended the Show.

Enjoyment of the affair was marred by an accident to one of the bourse dealers, William F. Hewes Jr. of Pottsville, Pa., who was involved in an automobile accident on May 6.

He was driving alone when the accident occurred; his car was completely demolished.

The impact as his car hit a pole spread his complete coin collection over a wide area in the field. About 50 people picked it up.

Howes' wife described him as a "broken man."

Alexander the Great's accession in 336 B.C. inaugurated a new epoch in coin-types.

New Club Has Displays

The six-week-old Orrville, Ohio, Coin Club observed National Coin Week with displays in three local banks, the Orrville Savings, First Savings and Loan, and the Orrville National.

Uncirculated gold coins provided the exhibit at the Savings bank, while modern coins were displayed at the First Savings and Loan.

Coins in the National Bank represented the World War II era, but featured were three coins from Biblical times. Included were a shekel of Tyre, a tribute penny to Tiberius Caesar, and a widow's mite.

The displays were arranged by club president Harry Bowman. The Orrville club was started at the conclusion of an Adult Education course in coin collecting sponsored by the public schools.

Topeka Club Meets In Depot

The Topeka, Kansas, Coin Club has scheduled its next meeting for Thursday, May 25, to be held in the Santa Fe Railway Depot, starting at 7:30 p.m.

At the last session, special games and an auction were held, and the new officers took over for their first full regular meeting. For the president and vice president, it was carrying on a familiar responsibility, since both were re-elected. The officers include:

M. M. Mathias, president; R. L. Ealy, vice president; Alice Blodgett, treasurer, and Wendell McHenry, secretary.

The Topeka club is heading toward its 25th anniversary, which occurs in 1962. It has 50 members with no distinction between junior and senior members, and an average attendance of between 60 and 70 at meetings, according to a report from president Mathias.

Public Visited Lenoir Exhibition

The Lenoir, N. C., Numismatic Society observed National Coin Week with a display of coins in the lobby of the Bank of Granite. Berkley Willis, vice president and manager of the Lenoir office issued a general invitation to the public to visit the exhibit.

On display were gold coins from the California Gold Rush days, gold coins made in the old Charlotte and Rutherfordton, N. C., mints and one Roman gold piece made about 70 A.D. Also in the display were several genuine Pirates "Pieces of Eight", according to Willis.

Keokuk Club Will Survey Initial Spring Activities

Reports on the club's First Spring Auction and Bourse Table Nights are expected to be summarized at the next meeting of the Keokuk, Iowa, Coin Club, slated for Thursday, May 25, at the St. Francis de Sales Church, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Both events were considered quite successful, according to committee chairman Bob Grass, with more than 165 attending the auction night and over 100 at the bourse night, from three states.

Winners of special awards included Paul Lowery, Farmington, Iowa; Frank Morris, Medill, Mo.; Robert Lovelace, Nauvoo, Ill.; and Lehland Nichols, C. W. Tuttle, Don Clippert and Mike Murphy, all of Keokuk. Irma Lichtenberger, Warsaw, Ill., received a $5 gold piece.

At the auction, held on a Thursday, a 1960 small date proof set realized $19.50; 1950 proof set, $50; a 1909-S cent in Good, $10.50; 1931-S cent in VF, $14 and a 1909-S VDB in VG brought $55.

On the next night, the Keokuk club sponsored a bourse table night, with 18 tables set up. Dealers came from Missouri, Illinois, and Iowa.

The same committee handled both nights, headed by Bob Grass, assisted by club president Lee Marsh. Other members of the committee included Maurice Gudel, grading chairman; Helen Wallace, publicity; Basil Lancaster, refreshments; Delmar Nye, building arrangements, and General Peterson, auction catalogue.

Essex Club Exhibits Coins

The Essex County Coin Club of Beverly, Mass., had five coin exhibits in three cities during National Coin Week, arranged under the Week chairmanship of Mrs. Therese Corriveau of Beverly.

In Beverly, displays were placed in the public library, the Beverly Cooperative bank, and the Walter Flint Insurance office.

In Newburyport, the Port Coin and Stamp Shop showed a display arranged by Kenneth C. Walker, the club's corresponding secretary. Dr. John Beddell, one of the club's directors, placed an exhibit in a bank in Gloucester.

The displays ranged from ancient Roman and Egyptian coins, through Colonial and Civil War money, to numismatic items of the present day.

DeKalb Club Exceeds Hundred

Friday, May 26, has been set for the next meeting of the DeKalb Coin Club of Decatur, Ga., to be held at the DeKalb County Federal Savings and Loan association, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Organized only last January, the club has now reached the 115 membership mark. During National Coin Week, the group had exhibits at the DeKalb Federal Savings and Loan and also at the Tucker Federal Savings and Loan.

At a recent meeting, club members saw what is said to be the only known complete collection of Georgia paper money of the Confederate and pre-Confederate eras, the specialty of Roy Payne who was the guest speaker for the evening.

The gradual advance of Rome is reflected by coinages in the west. In Italy and Sicily, local silver ceased earlier than in Asia and Greece.

Schulman Reports

Delineation Of Terms Compiled By Columnist

By Hans M. F. Schulman

I have been asked to explain a bit more in detail the differences between re-strikes, unofficial strikings, counterfeits, government issues etc. and I hope in the following lines to set the matter right: Counterfeits: This is the easiest to explain. Any coin not struck by the official authority of issue is a counterfeit. Counterfeits are found in many types. Often struck from new imtated dies they resemble the genuine coin but are easily noticeable by small changes and very often their weight does not correspond to the genuine coin nor does the exact size, and often the metal alloy is different.

Watch for these three factors in determining a counterfeit. If the "counterfeit" is struck from official dies by the issuing authority but not at the time of issue, we do not call this coin a counterfeit but we have to do with:

Restrikes: They are always struck by the official authority and if they are not, they are not re-strikes but just counterfeits and these counterfeiters apparently got hold of the original dies. I repeat, a restrike not made by the official minting authority is a counterfeit.

A flagrant case of counterfeits which have invaded the market of genuine coins are the gold English pounds struck in Italy from new dies resembling the official dies so much and so exact in weight that they are accepted in the trade side by side with the genuine issues.

The counterfeiter escaped to Brazil and a book dealing with his adventurous life is available in a novel book edition 1957 by Murray T. Bloom "Money of Their Own," published by Scribner's, (an account of the world's greatest counterfeiters).

The French government, therefore, seeing how much money the English lost from the competition of the counterfeiters restruct their own coins with earlier dates.

Both Napoleon III, and Republic 20 franc pieces have been re-struck officially. This is why the U.S. customs do not permit the entry of many English sovereigns or French 20 francs because the importation of counterfeits or re-strikes is of course prohibited.

Unofficial Strikings: These are commemorative pieces looking often like coins and often in the weight of existing coins to celebrate events. They fall under the legal terms of "medals" and are dutiable in the U.S.A. with gold 65 per cent, silver 22 per cent and copper 22 per cent.

When Pope John XXIII was installed all over the world medals in certain ducat weights were struck to celebrate this event. Particularly in Germany many one, three, five, 10, 20, 30 and 50 ducat pieces were made for commercial purposes. These, even though described as 10 ducats (which formerly was an expression for a coin of 10 ducats), are medals by law.

When the mints strike coins which are not legal tender, they fall again under the term "medals" as far as customs are concerned, but they are numismatically "coins".

We call these strikings official strikings by official governmental issuing authorities but what they

Collection Valued At $15,000

Louis Nakos arranged a display at the National Bank of Toledo during National Coin Week—he exhibited all uncirculated coins in plastic holders. More comment was received from the gold coins and the 1879 proof set in the U.S. classification. Nakos, a member of the Toledo Coin Club and the Florida United Numismatists, had this part of his collection insured for $15,000.

Schulman . . .

strike does not have official money value as to exchange of currency. They are commemorative coins without being legal tender and our custom department does not consider these duty free items but they fall under the medal category.

Last of all we deal with mint-sports and fantasy items. Mint-sports are tricks made by mint-masters at the mint but without the consent of the issuing government authority and are to be listed as counterfeits. Fantasy pieces may be issued both by official issuing authorities at the mint or by private individuals and medallic companies and are medals in the true sense of the word.

They may look like coins but they are not and they do not serve any purpose whatsoever. Most fantasy items were made in China during a certain period between the two wars. I hope that the question is herewith quite a bit cleared up.

PRESENTING A NEW KIND OF COIN BOOK FOR ALL COLLECTORS, INVESTORS AND COLLECTOR INVESTORS!

UNCOVERED!

The prices of uncirculated U.S. Coins for each separate year since 1935! A fascinating year to year history of coin prices that will open your eyes! Learn what the yearly price change percentage has been on each coin. Many surprises in figures revealed!

WHAT WILL YOUR EXPENSIVE COLLECTION, YOUR COIN INVESTMENTS, BE WORTH IN THE YEARS AHEAD . . . WHAT ARE THEIR "MATURITY" DATES AND VALUES?

For the first time this priceless data is made available in "The Profit March Of Your Coins From 1935 To 1968." Here you will find a scientific and accurate scale of future values based upon what each coin has done in the past. Up until now such predictions were based on the mere pulling of a hypothetical figure out of the air. You'll see how coin prices change over the years, the price change percentages, coinage totals, projected prices from 1961 to 1968, comments on the future . . . on each and every uncirculated coin, roll, or proof set.

Reading this guide will leave you with a new respect for your investment.

You'll see what the prices were back in 1936, 1945, 1950 . . . or any other year! How they have changed, startlingly, in the thirties, forties and fifties . . . and what they will be in the next four or eight years!

Up until now, the factors involved in coin futuristics have not been presented so there has been no yardstick with which to measure the possibilities. Now revealing pages mathematically prove that most investments in coins will, regardless of present confusion, produce future yields that will far exceed expectations!

Not only the coin investor, but the collector should have this guide in his possession! Collections have a way of growing and growing until they represent a tremendous investment. If you have such a valuable collection or have set aside rolls, you should know how long it will be before your coins are worth a certain amount of money . . . enough, perhaps, for college educations . . . travel . . . emergencies . . . or even partial retirement (it has been done). You'll get the answers when you have this unusual book before you. You will be shown the individual price pattern of each coin, the length of each cycle and the frequency of change. With this set pattern you can observe how long the upsurges and the downsurges lasted in the past and govern future actions accordingly.

"THE PROFIT MARCH OF YOUR COINS FROM 1935 TO 1968"

LEARN WHICH COINS ARE LIKELY TO INCREASE IN PRICE FIRST.
WHICH WILL OFFER THE BEST SECURITY OVER THE YEARS.

Inasmuch as the past is but a mirror of the future, it would behoove any coin collector or investor to seriously review the past price history! Such records have always been available in other investment fields! Now for the first time you have the same opportunity! Don't guess or worry any longer because of a lack of investment knowledge!

GET THE FIRST AND ONLY GUIDE OF ITS KIND!

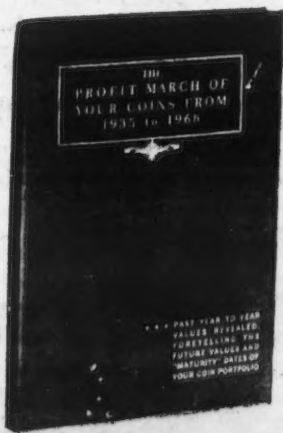

An important event in the coin collecting and investing field. Dealers: write for quantity prices.

The club printed on cards which it handed out to visitors, the following material:

"Coin collecting helps to make friends, increases knowledge, encouraged thrift, promotes happiness, builds an estate, and brings economic security".

Among the cooperating businesses with displays were Polom's Book store, Stearns, and Duckwall's, in Manhattan, and the First National Bank in Wamego.

New Club Exhibits Three Places In Washington Cities

The five-month-old Tri-City Coin Club of Pasco, Wash., observed National Coin Week with coin and paper money exhibits in three Washington cities, according to a report from Mrs. John M. Frey, secretary.

Club president H. A. Morris and his son, H. N. Morris, set up a display at "The Old County Fair" in the Highland Junior high school in Kennewick, Wash. Later, exhibits were placed in the Seattle First National bank branches in both Pasco and Kennewick.

On the final Sunday of National Coin Week, the club made a special showing to a church group in Richland, Wash. Among the various exhibits were the following:

Old large U. S. bills; a complete gold set; a complete display of proof sets; type set of old coins; set of Canadian bills, proof sets, and a complete set of albums; and a set of U. S. albums from small cents through silver dollars.

The Tri-City club has scheduled its next meeting for Thursday, June 1, to be held at the Sylvester Park Youth Center in Pasco, starting at 7:30 p.m. All interested area collectors are invited to attend.

The club's initial meeting was held on January 19, 1961, with 22 collectors present. Charter memberships were held open through February, and by March 1, 53 persons had become charter members. Through April 25, seven more joined to bring the total roster to 60.

MacHugh Appraises For NCW

Jay R. MacHugh, Little Rock, Ark., numismatist, shares photographs of pages here from a leather-bound German numismatic study, printed in the late 17th century.

He acquired the volume during the process of appraising a sizeable collection of South and Central American gold, silver and copper coins taken to him by a gentleman from Brazil—which, incidentally, MacHugh, purchased, too.

The book of 900 pages is in excellent state with many fold-out plates listing European coins of the middle ages through the year of 1690.

MacHugh has plans to sell the book. MacHugh was also responsible for a one-man National Coin Week project.

Throughout the week, five hours a day, he conducted a free coins and currency appraisal service at his counter at the credit office of Pfeifers of Arkansas department store. He classified and appraised a total of 6,245 items. Material ranged from ancient Greek silver and gold to $50 gold slugs.

MacHugh, whose personal collection numbers some 10,500 pieces, specializes in Spanish colonials, gold and crown of the world.

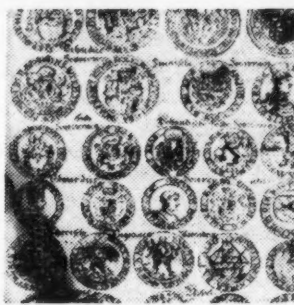

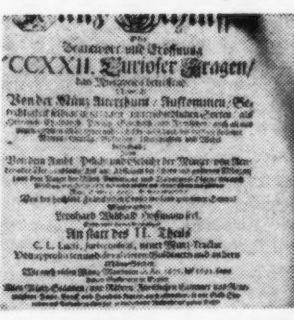

He has been interested in coins for 20 years, and understands seven languages!

New Club In West Virginia

Monday, May 29, has been set for the next meeting of the recently organized Lewis Wetzel Coin Club of New Martinsville, W. Va., to be held in the Parkway Center at New Martinsville, starting at 7:30 p.m. Visitors will be welcome.

When the club was formed, much assistance was given by Andy Selensky, president of the Mountaineer Coin Club of Westover, W. Va., according to Mrs. Tex Cozart, secretary of the new group.

Other officers chosen at the first session were John Iams, president; Gail Halterman, vice president; and Alton Jolliffe, treasurer.

Numismatists—Junior Size

In Bluefield, W. Va., coin collecting enthusiasts come in small sizes, too. These junior numismatists are shown at the second of two displays at the Flat Top National Bank entitled, "Evolution of the Silver Dollar." The displays were at the bank room April 20 through May 8. They are, clockwise, Charlotte Megredy, Keith Hall, Richard Lorber, Sharon Megredy, Jimmy Ball, Warren Pennington, Mike Douthat, Davis Douthat, John Pennington and Jack Ball.

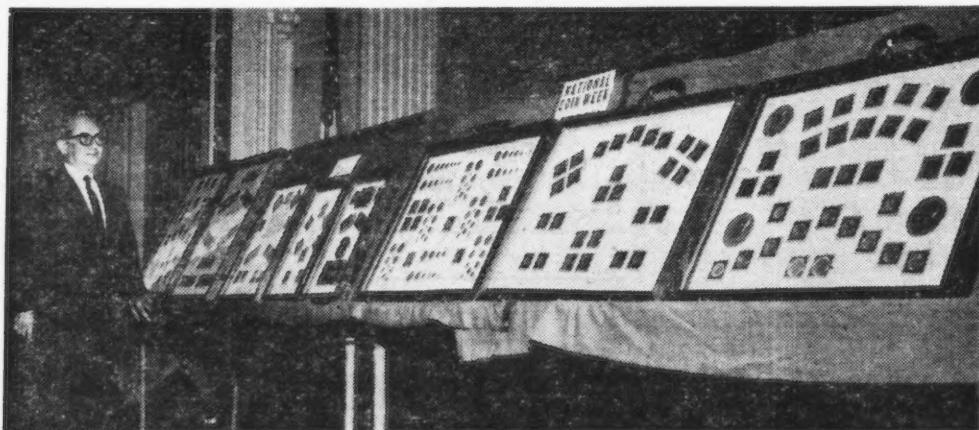

Jay R. MacHugh's National Coin Week appraisal service . . .

Exhibitor Explains Display

Morris Bram, New York City numismatist, exhibited at the Whelan Drug Store, 90 West Broadway in New York, during National Coin Week. He arranged frames of large and obsolete currency, fractional currency, Pony Express and Wells Fargo numismatic items, medals and tokens relating to pharmacy along with U. S. coins, medals, gold, etc., in plastic holders. Bram spent hours explaining the exhibit and giving numismatic information at the store. The Pony Express was so popular, it remained another week in the window. Bram is a member of the American and Canadian Numismatic Associations, charter member of the Society of Tokens, Medals and Obsolete Paper Money Collectors, treasurer of the Long Island Coin Club and the Brooklyn Coin Club.

Exhibit Remains Due To High Interest

Max Lieberman's 17 frames and cases of coins and currency created so much interest during National Coin Week, officials of the Liberty Real Estate Bank and Trust Co. in the center of Philadelphia, asked him to leave it for an extra two weeks. The grouping was designed by Albert Halpern, of Philadelphia. Lieberman is a member of the Philadelphia Coin Club and vice president of the Liberty Bell Coin Club. His exhibits have won prizes at the Middle Atlantic Numismatic Assn. and American Numismatic Association conventions and at the Philadelphia Coin Club silver anniversary convention.

Los Angeles Sets Record

Special plans for its 400th meeting, to be in June, are expected to be announced at the 399th session of the Los Angeles, Calif., Coin Club, set for Friday, June 2, in Forresters Hall, 1329 Hope Street, Los Angeles, according to a report from corresponding secretary Carolyn Olson.

At the May meeting, an all time record for attendance was set, with 334 members and guests present. At the same session, 15 new members were accepted by the club for which some of the credit was given to "Coin World" as several of the new members said they had read about the club in that newspaper. Officer L. B. Miller of the Los Angeles Police Department talked on the department and showed colored sound moving pictures of its work.

Nation Analyzed Through Cent

By George E. Broughton
President, Fort Wayne, Ind.,
Old Fort Coin Club

It seems to me that this country's greatness is reflected in its smallest coin. Anybody with eyes to see can read it in a study of one of our cents.

Imagine some archaeologist 20 centuries hence finding such a coin. From it he might reconstruct much of the civilization of America today.

By the coin's hardness, he would know something of our mastery of technology. It would be obvious our engineers understood metal alloys. By its very composition of copper, he would know this nation had been rich in minerals. Otherwise our coins might have been stone or leather.

By its shape, he would know ours had been an industrial nation. Only fine machine tools could stamp-out the precision circle of the penny.

By its bas relief, the archaeologist would know ours, was a nation of artists. That Lincoln likeness is not bad for a machine reproduction. By its lettering, the archaeologist would know we were a nation of scholars. After all, several languages appear on each cent. The phrase "E PLURIBUS UNUM" is Latin. Most of the inscriptions are in English. The numerals marking the date are in Arabic.

The thoughtful man, studying the cent, would see more than Arabic numerals. The words "one cent" would indicate knowledge of Roman numerals. Those words would also indicate knowledge of the metric system.

Truly, the archaeologist would say, here must have been a people highly developed in many fields. They knew languages, mathematics, and art. Having recognized the nation's richness in minerals, the archaeologist would note its respect for agriculture. Grain stalks decorate its coin.

There is a legend upon the coin: "out of many, one". It indicates a mercantile nation. Such coins must have circulated freely and widely. Yet, the Nation's business must have been conducted in great part on credit. That word "trust" is used as though all understood its meaning.

What is supposedly the first copper coins made in America are the "Granby" or "Higley" coppers.

Some of the Nation's theology is indicated on the coin. The people thought so much of God that His name appeared on their smallest coin. It's interesting, too, that the coin speaks of God rather than gods. The American people obviously must have been monotheistic.

The archaeologist, studying this coin, would know something of the nation's political development. It refers to "United States of America". That phrase indicates a federation of independent states living in peace and harmony. In turn, such harmony indicates high political acumen.

There's more to be learned about the people of the mid-20th century America from this coin, the archaeologist would say. They were a free people. There must have been no slavery. And those people must have thought much of their freedom, for on their smallest coin they imprinted the word "LIBERTY".

Perhaps the scholar, studying the coin in the distant future, would puzzle over the letter under its date. It might be "D", plain or "S". Maybe he'd figure out that this referred to its place of minting, whether Denver or Philadelphia or San Francisco. If so, he would know more of the nation.

It must have been a decentralized economy to have had its mints in various areas. This was not a country in which "all roads lead to Rome".

Such are the things a scholar would deduce from even a cursory and surface study of the nation's smallest coin. It's all there to be read.

has a special reason for wanting it printed, as in the case of the chairman of a Coin Show or something like that.

But I do keep all addresses here at the office of everybody who writes in, so that if somebody else wants to write to a person mentioned in the column, I know how to reach him. I suggest that if any of you want to write to a collector you read about here, you send your letter in care of this column to me, and I will see that it is forwarded.

Paul Frandell of Simi, Calif. writes that he found in a bank roll of 1960-D nickels what looks to be a copper-plated coin, and wants to know if that is possible. Anything is possible, although some things are not probable.

There are records of coins in the wrong metal, and every so often one is found struck on planchets intended for foreign coins. The U. S. Mint regularly strikes coins for foreign countries, and in some way or other, a mixup may occur. Perhaps a few planchets are left in the hopper, just as Breen says is the cause of the few 1943 copper cents and the 1944 steel cents that are known.

Kolman lists quite a few known Lincoln cents struck on foreign coin planchets, including Cuban, Phillipino, and Colombian, so why not nickels? That could be the explanation for what you have, although I am just guessing. There are a lot of coin clubs near Simi, I suggest you take it to one of them. If you do, let me know what you find out, if anything.

In the issue of April 13, I printed a picture of a "broken nose" dime, I had previously said quite a bit about them. Albert W. Kadet of Mentor, Ohio, has written in about a 1941-S dime he has found, with a broken nose.

The 1940-S and 1941-S Mercury dimes are or have been well-known for their "broken nose" varieties, and they used to be somewhat in demand by collectors. As a matter of fact, I bought a 1941-S broken nose dime in BU at an auction within the last few weeks, and I saw some advertised in Coin World just recently.

I had never seen any mention of the broken nose in any other date until I said something in this column a month or three ago about trying to make a complete Mercury dime set of broken noses.

Mr. Kadet wants to know what his 1941-S is worth. I don't know, but I have seen them being sold in "nice" condition, that is, fine or better, for 50 cents to $1. In BU, they should be worth about $2, as against a catalogue value for the ordinary kind of $1.35, and $1.25 for the 1940-S. I'm guessing again, as value depends entirely on what it is worth to a collector who wants it, and how much he is willing to pay for it.

One of the best ways to determine value on any coin is to put one up for bids at a club auction. Which reminds me that I have strong feelings about club auctions, and have said a good deal about them, but not lately. I feel they are one of the best things a club can do, but they can be abused. The editor of the Winona, Minn., Coin Club bulletin had something to say recently about club auctions, and I would like to close this week by repeating it here. I quote:

"Members having coins which they wish to sell by auction may bring them along to the meeting, but have them there early. It takes time to number and arrange the lots. And, watch your reserve bids!

"You may protect your investment by placing a reserve or minimum price on each lot of coins that you sell at auction, no one can buy a lot for less than the reserve bid. A reserve bid means exactly what it implies: the absolute minimum amount for which you will sell a lot. But don't make those reserve bids too high!

"Our recent auctions have proved that lots bearing reserve bids close to or equal to the currently advertised dealers selling prices do not sell. If you must, for one reason or another, realize full current market prices for your coins, set up a bourse table and be a vest pocket dealer, but don't waste the club's time trying to unload such coins for you over the auction block.

"Club auctions are held for you to dispose of your duplicates and to purchase needed coins—both at "moderate" costs. (Incidentally, don't forget that for the privilege of disposing of duplicate coins through club auctions, the seller is charged only five per cent of the sale price with a maximum of 50 cents per lot. All commissions received go into the club treasury.)"

THERE ARE TRICKS IN ALL TRADES!

Most everyone knows I will call a spade a spade and for that reason I want to refer to my competition on page 47, May 11 issue of this publication, where one Florida dealer clearly states he is going to undersell everybody else and spend 15 minutes checking all ads in order to be low man. But how stupid can one be to admit he will pick the gems out of a roll set of nickels and halves and sell them for a little over 10% more, and then sell the garbage for less than other dealers are advertising to sell for. Yes, we could pick out culls and undersell everybody else. So folks, this just goes to show you that there are tricks in all trades, and you better read the small print in all ads. For ourselves, we make up our BU sets of nickels, dimes, quarters and halves, and sell nice sets to everyone at a reasonable price. I just mention these things to show you collectors what sort of competition is going on.

THE WAR IS ON!

It seems that a lot of dealers are trying to get in the act and ruin the 1960-P small date cent. Of course, there are a few legitimate dealers who are trying to hold the prices up. Since the 5 and 10 roll dealers are purposely trying to run down this good roll, I am going to try to help them and see if they can undercut these prices. These prices are good for one week only, or until 200 rolls are sold out.

Birthday To Be Occasion For Festivity

Its first birthday will be celebrated on Tuesday, May 30, with a party, by the Union County Coin Club of Linden, N. J. which holds its meetings at the Polish National Home at 300 Roselle Street in Linden, the last Tuesday, starting at 8 p.m.

At the last meeting, all those present contributed $1 toward the party, and any interested collectors are invited to attend and may pay their dollar at the door.

Also at the last session, reports were made on the club members' National Coin Week exhibits. Eight members had displays in seven locations.

Sam Rosenberg and Lee Goodman set up a Civil War display at the Union library. Richard Rackin exhibited at the Washington School in Union, and Irv Klein showed at the Community Bank in Linden.

The First National Bank of Roselle had an exhibit contributed by Sam Fidel and Charles Schaub, and the Colonial Savings in Roselle Park had one by Charles Phillips. Don Swayze divided his exhibit between the Union County Trust and the Elizabeth public library.

The Union County Coin Club is interested in more members and invited anyone in the area who is interested in collecting to attend its meetings. Its officers believe that "coin collectors are made, not born, and anyone who changes a dollar at the corner store and has time to look at the dates on his change can be a collector".

Virginia Club Arranges Displays

An exhibit valued at $7,000 was displayed at Sears in Newport News, Va., by the Virginia Peninsula Coin Club, in observance of National Coin Week. Another was in Woodward's Drug Store in Hampton, Va.

Included in the Sears display were ancient coins, early U. S., Commemoratives, type coins, Confederate notes, and Virginia Treasury and Virginia County notes.

The Romance of MONEY

By Ted R. Hammer

From here and there:
Largest note in circulation is the $10,000 Federal Reserve note.

A $100,000 note is used by the Federal Reserve and its branches, but is not in circulation. Largely serving for bookkeeping purposes, it is kept among assets as token gold. It is a gold certificate. In reply to a question from a reader several years ago, we admitted we had no scrapbook of our columns, which date back to the 1940s. The husband of a friend of ours who died recently brought over his wife's scrapbook. It contained not only our columns but many newspaper clippings about money. By coincidence, she resided in Des Moines before moving to Wichita, and had started the scrapbook from clippings of our column while in the capital of Iowa.

For fun as well as one method of preventing being taken in by a counterfeit or phony note, memorize the faces on banknotes: $1 bill, Washington; $2, Jefferson; $5, Lincoln; $10, Hamilton; $20, Jackson; $50, Grant; $100, Franklin; $500, McKinley; $1,000, Cleveland; $5,000, Madison; $10,000, Chase.

A correspondent writes: "Why don't you do an article on the three-cent note I have. I'll bet you've never seen one, but here is a description." And she described the note. The woman had no way of knowing that the most prominent display in our tiny office is a fractional currency shield.

At the bottom of the shield are both types of the three-cent note, one with a light curtain behind the head of the gentleman from other with a dark curtain behind the head of the gentleman from Mt. Vernon. The fractional notes of 3-cent to 5-cent denomination began during the Civil War, were discontinued in 1876.

Many correspondents ask about the California 25-cent and 50-cent pieces, most of which are souvenirs, even if of gold. The genuine California gold coins have the abbreviation of the word dollar (DOL) under the denomination (1/4 or 1/2).

NCW Display At Bank

The Rolla, Mo., Coin Club observed National Coin Week by co-operating with the First State Bank of Rolla in the bank's Open House held to celebrate remodeling. The Rolla club contributed display of coins.

Club Sponsors FR Collection

A major portion of the half million dollar Philadelphia Federal Reserve display of coins and currency was used along with members' exhibits in the new branch of Haddonfield National Bank in Voorhees Township, N. J., as a National Coin Week feature by the Camden County, N. J., Coin Club.

The Philadelphia collection, valued at $100,000 was under constant guard, and placed in the vault each night.

Exhibits completely filled the bank board room and most of the lobby, and were so successful the display was continued the following week.

Ten bus loads of students came during school hours to see the exhibit; bank officials and Camden Coin Club members greeted them and answered questions.

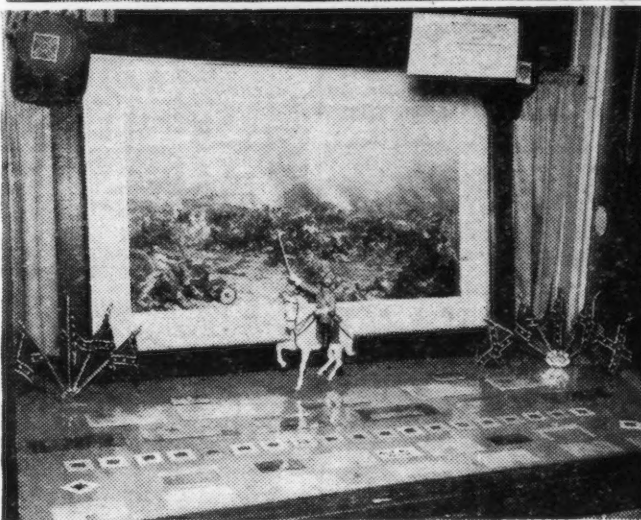

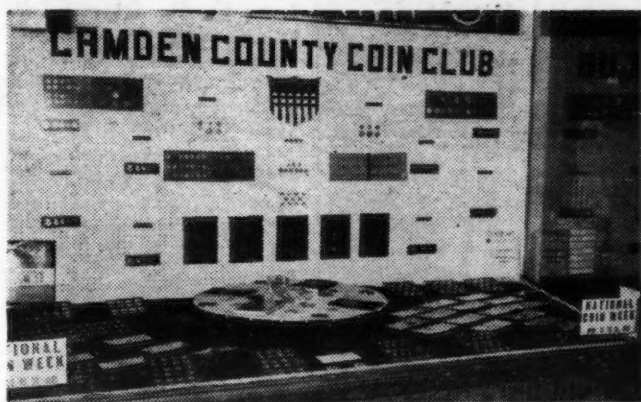

Other displays were set up in the following locations according to NCW Chairman Les Hess:

Penn-Jersey Coin Shop, Merchantville; Pennsauken Public Library, Pennsauken; Camden Trust Co., Camden; Raymonds Jewelers, Curriden Sport Shop, Collingswood; Central Coin and Stamps, Westmont.

Neumeyers Store, Haddonfield; Scotts Optical Co., Oaklyn; Marlton National Bank, Marlton; Schaeffers Store, Haddon Heights.

Newspaper publicity added to the observance. Radio Station WKDN for the second year interviewed club member Harm Rodgers. During the half hour broadcast, the station switchboard was flooded with calls requesting information on coins which were answered on the air.

Station officials were so pleased with the response they invited Harm to return in four weeks for another public service broadcast.

Camden County, N. J., Coin Club exhibits for National Coin Week.

The Camden club is competing this year for its third first award for observance of National Coin Week in five years.

In 1956, the club won first award in Class B. Four years and many more members later, in 1960 the club again received a first award, this time in Class A.

Jefferson Theme Of Coin Week Exhibit

The Oak Park, Ill., Coin Club in cooperation with the Jefferson State Bank of Chicago had a special display of coins connected with Thomas Jefferson, as part of its National Coin Week observance.

Included were all the "Jefferson" nickels in uncirculated condition, as well as a 1904 gold medal of the Louisiana Purchase exposition in St. Louis commemorating the 1803 purchase of the Louisiana territory.

Mexican Numismatics Discussed For Club

The Billings, Mont., Coin Club has scheduled its next meeting for Thursday, May 25, to be held at the Bureau of Reclamation cafeteria, 7th Street West at Central, in Billings, starting at 7:30 p.m.

At a recent session, club members heard A. H. "Andy" Anderson discuss his coin collecting experiences, including a recent trip to Mexico, illustrated with a display of part of his collection.

"Our junior members are very enthusiastic about any idea that permits them to show their collections," said Mrs. Helen Robbins, secretary. "The juniors are very proud of their work, and the adult members worked hard to make this enterprise a success."

The Confederate financial campaign in the Civil War was the theme of one Ridge club exhibit at the Lake Wales Bank and Trust Company.

This material was from the collections of P. G. Gearing and Stratton L. Story, vice president of the bank; Tom Brown and C. H. Cox cooperated in the exhibit which also featured Union money.

Tom Brown of Frostproof is club president. Both Gearing and Story are directors of the club.

In Avon Park, Jerome Shiltz and John Hutchinson arranged displays in the Citrus Bank, the Metcalfe Hardware store, and other places of business. Contributing were P. G. Gearing, Betty Hutchinson, Mrs. Marion Carlson, Robert Carlson, Shiltz, Pep Hutchinson and Jimmy Bates.

The Lake Placid Bank had a display of paper money, an example of one of each series of one dollar bills, exhibited by Gearing.

In Sebring, several stores and the Tropical State Bank exhibited. Cooperating were junior members Robert Buchanan, Charles Weaver and Johnnie Gustat, and John Liskey, Mrs. Rhoda Kost and C. H. Cox, senior members.

Five Stores Display Coins

Five stores cooperated with the Redwood Empire Coin Club of Santa Rosa, Calif., in presenting coin displays of club members in observance of National Coin Week.

Sawyer Jewelers showed pioneer and regular U. S. gold; Henderson Clothiers displayed proof sets; Dr. Richardson, optometrist, a collection of half dollars from the 1800's to 1916; Luger's Old Clock Shop, a variety of rare coins, and the Book and Bible House, a wide assortment from cents to gold.

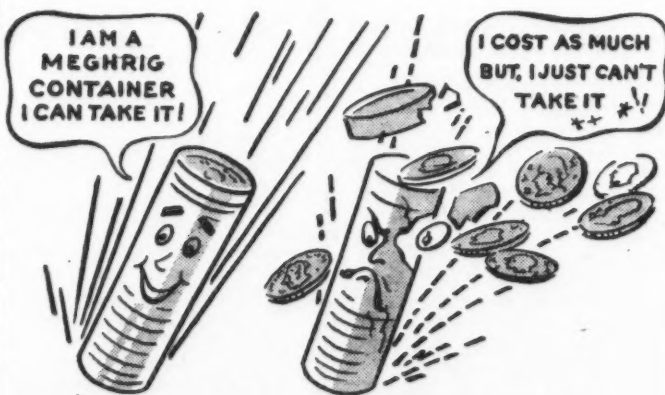

Guy Chapman was chairman of the club's observance of the Week.

Beautiful little gold coins were struck during the siege of Syracuse by the Athenians.

NCW Meeting Held To Feature Juniors

A special meeting featuring "Junior Collectors' Night" marked the observance of National Coin Week for the Susquehanna Valley Coin Club of Sunbury, Pa.

Mrs. Lilly Tresca was chairman of the committee for the special session, and arranged for exhibits in keeping with the Week. Slides were to be shown, and adult club members were present to give advice to the juniors.

Interesting Currency In Michigan Till

A $20 bill signed by the original owner of Ypsilanti's new Municipal Court building was passed recently in a Ypsilanti, Mich., store, according to the Michigan Investor.

Noel J. Walker, owner of the Walker Hardware Store, thought for a while a clerk had been victimized by a counterfeiter when he discovered the bill—issued by "The First National Bank of Ypsilanti"—in a cash register.

A check at the National Bank of Ypsilanti, however, proved the bill is "real money" and worth $20—or more. The bank offered Walker $20 for the greenback, but he has received higher offers elsewhere for the "collector's item."

The bill bears the same picture of Andrew Jackson which adorns modern-day $20's. The back is changed little from the current government issue.

National Bank President Walter C. Sturm said the bill is one of the few remaining in circulation from currency issued prior to the nation-wide bank "holiday" in the early 1930's. National banks were allowed to issue their own currency before 1921 by placing bonds as security with the federal government.

Walker's 1929-series bill bears the National Bank's charter number—155—and is signed by Guy Spencer, cashier, and bank President Daniel L. Quirk, Jr. The city recently purchased Mr. Quirk's former homestead at 206 North Huron as a new court building, located just south of City Hall, which was formerly the homestead of his father, Daniel Lacey Quirk.

Another Library Gets C.W. As Gift

If you happen to be in Waterville, Maine, and stop in at the public library there, you will find a copy of Coin World for your reading pleasure. This subscription has been made possible through the courtesy of the "Heart of Maine Coin Club."

Frederick A. Geig, club secretary and treasurer, states in reporting the subscription as follows: "At a recent meeting, I, as secretary, was directed to send a gift subscription of your paper to the local library to encourage the availability and accessibility of numismatic material. We plan to make this an annual feature and would suggest that other clubs in smaller towns follow suit."

"It was the decision of all of the membership to send Coin World to the library, rather than any of the other numismatic publications."

All we can say is "thanks" and we are hoping that many, many readers get hours of enjoyment reading the publication in the months ahead.

A Typical Coin World Renewal

"This is one renewal I am happy to make. Keep up the good work."

Harold R. McKinney
Gladbrook, Iowa

'Coin World' Ideal Birthday Gift

C. C. Burge, Galesburg, Michigan, had the right answer when a friend asked what she could get her husband for his birthday.

"A year's subscription to COIN WORLD would certainly be appreciated" was the quick answer.

Yes, a subscription to COIN WORLD is a splendid gift suggestion for any occasion that you want to honor.

We will be glad to send a special gift certificate to the recipient should you so desire. Just let us know how you would want the certificate signed and we will do the rest.

It will prove to be a gift that will be appreciated through the entire year.

Numismatically yours,

Cecil Watkins

School Club Makes Display For Coin Week

What started with school children has spread to their teachers, and now even principal Norman F. Gierman of the Florence Avenue School in the Newark-Irvington, N. J., area is among the 75 members of the recently organized Florence Avenue Coin Club.

William Schwartz, teacher of social studies and junior business training, started the group last January with 23 boys and girls from his 12th and 8th grade classes. Interest spread, and Schwartz found 5th and 6th graders seeking membership, along with the principal.

During National Coin Week, the club had a display in the Supreme Savings and Loan Association across the street from the school.

The club meets every two weeks to exchange ideas and coins, and discuss such topics as grading and types.

"Coins are giving the children a worthwhile interest outside of school", Schwartz says, "and it is teaching them economics, history and business all at the same time".

Banks Display In Arkansas

The Albert Pike Numismatic Society of Fort Smith, Ark., observed National Coin Week with exhibits in all three Fort Smith banks.

On display at the First National Bank were U. S. coins from early American to the present in gold, silver and copper, with Charles S. Miller responsible for the exhibit.

At the National City Bank, Dr. Fred Krock had a display of ancient gold and silver and coins of Biblical days.

Don Bailey had an exhibit of paper money and U. S. type coins at the Merchants National Bank.

Celestial Premier Talks To Club

Some members of the Cal-Harbor Coin Club, Chicago, are still a little mystified by the speech delivered recently before the club by James T. Mangan, of Evergreen Park, Ill., and premier of the Nation of Celestial Space. The talk was entitled: "What Is Money?"

Mangan explained the four essential elements of money, viz, a measure of value, a medium of exchange, a store of value, and a standard of deferred payment. The first three elements were quite familiar, but the fourth was the cause of the mystification.

"In the 19th century," said Mangan, "money men put as much stress on the standard of deferred payment, as being as much of the essence of money as the other three more familiar (today) elements. Contracts, insurance policies, promissory notes, and bills for merchandise to be paid at some future date, had a qualifying phrase, after the sum owed, such as "payable in gold or its equivalent."

"Today we seem to have forgotten about such a standard of deferred payment. Many insurance policies held today and paid for with gold dollars of the 20's and early 30's are now worth about a third of face value in terms of today's prices. Gold is still the best standard of deferred payment, because gold is today worth much more than it was when these policies were being paid for.

"Money today, therefore, can be considered as having only three out of four of money's true essentials and there ought to be a lot more study and attention given to restoring essential number four."

At the meeting Mangan displayed his mint and proof gold celestons. Today he announced a new kind of backing for money—energy. He has just issued a prophetic coin, the silver Joule, which pre-memorizes the coming discovery of celestial energy. The Joule in .925 sterling silver, weighing 64 grains and measuring 3/4 inch in diameter sells for $4 each.

A Joule in terms of energy is three-quarters of a foot pound. "If anyone ever wants to redeem a silver joule on the deferred standard of payment, as an essential of money, all one has to do is lift an object weighing a pound nine inches in the air in a second.

"But the 64 grains of sterling silver represent a store of value, and since the Joule has already been used to buy merchandise at its own price, it fulfills all four essentials. Think of it. We've had many different kinds of money—now comes energy money," Mangan points out.

Unload All $100,000 Bills!

If you're carrying a $100,000 bill in your pocket—you'd better turn it in immediately!

The $100,000 Wilson gold certificate bill can be viewed only at the Smithsonian Institution's Hall of Monetary History, at the U.S. Bureau of Engraving and Printing at Washington D. C., and at a few of the Federal Reserve Banks around the country.

No private person or agency can hold one, not even for display purposes. Vernon L. Brown, Curator of the Chase Manhattan's Museum of Monies of the World, has indicated that he would like to have the $100,000 note for the Chase collection, but knows that it is simply impossible, and illegal, to obtain one.

The reason for this is that gold certificates are used only between the Treasury Department and the Federal Reserve Banks. Further, an official Treasury Department publication, Coins and Currency of the United States (1947), stated:

"Gold certificates were withdrawn from circulation along with gold coin and bullion in 1933. Since the Act of January 30, 1934 (Gold Reserve Act) they have been issued only to Federal Reserve Banks, against an equal amount of gold bullion held by the Treasury."

"Yes, the $100,000 gold certificates are still in use," an official of the Federal Reserve Bank in Cleveland states. "But these notes are now used only to settle accounts between the Federal Reserve Bank of New York and the U. S. Treasury Department."

New Yorker Arranges NCW Exhibit

A display of locally-issued currency, including a $10 U. S. National bill, issued by the Jefferson County National Bank of Watertown, N. Y., and fractional currency issued by banks at Adams, N. Y., in 1862 highlighted a numismatic exhibit in the Watertown Jefferson County Historical Society Museum.

William B. Simons, a member of the American Numismatic Association, and of the Northern New York Club of Watertown, arranged the display in observance of National Coin Week.

A second display was of the Panama coins from 1904 to 1953. A third display included Mexican gold, silver and copper coins.

A display of ancient coins on exhibit include Roman coins such as: Gallienus 253-263 A.D.; Magnentius, 350-353 A.D.; Valeus, 364-378 A.D.; and a group of Constantine I coins. Also included in this case were a silver denarius of Roman Empire 150 B.C. and an unidentified oriental coin.

In another case was a "20th century type set of U. S. coins" with an attractive lettering display (to take the viewer's eye) telling those who visited the museum that "this was National Coin Week."

A display of Philippine coins and currency under the sovereignty of the United States of America was featured in another case.

Of historical interest to the viewer was the case devoted to North American Mints. Information included the mint mark, if any, for each mint and location and dates of operation of the mints. Coins used in this respect were U. S. and Canadian silver dollars.

A National Coin Week exhibit was the feature at the Jefferson County Historical Society Museum in Watertown, N. Y., recently. Coins and currency were exhibited by A.N.A. member, William B. Simons, of Watertown, who is shown here viewing one of the seven cases on display.

Another case showed presidential and commemorative medals. Included is a medal of the sesquicentennial anniversary of Jefferson county, N. Y. in 1955. The mintage of this medal was less than 1,000 copies according to J. Reese Price, curator of the museum. Due to this small mintage very few copies have left this area. The presidential medals including George Washington, Abraham Lincoln and Dwight D. Eisenhower, inauguration medals of Eisenhower-Nixon and J. F. Kennedy plus the Alaskan and Hawaiian Statehood medals and the U. S. S. Enterprise medal were on display.

Other displays around Watertown, during National Coin Week included a Confederate display in the Toy Parade window. One frame featured a 100 dollar Confederate bond including the eight interest coupons all signed and intact. Another frame included currency of the Confederate States of America while the third frame featured revenue bond script from the state of South Carolina. Civil War tokens, with appropriate information concerning same, was the feature of the fourth frame in this window.

At Al's Hobby Shop on State street in Watertown, "wooden nickels" frame was the center of attraction and "the talk of the town." Also shown in this display were two frames of coins—one British frame which included coins of George I, II, III, IV, V and VI, William III, Edward VI, both young and old of Victoria and Elizabeth II. The other frame featured South American present day coins. The background for this window display featured an attractive display of front pages of Coin World.

At the Northern New York coin club meeting, held during National Coin Week as an "extra special" meeting, Simons was awarded first prize in the NCW exhibit at the club. This exhibit featured fractional currency of the United States and Canada and the 1961 Canadian proof-like sets of coins.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schoener showed sets of U. S. and Canadian coins. Clifford Butterfield exhibited U. S. paper money from Colonial times to the present.

Also exhibited were silver commemorative medals and Irish animal money by Kenneth Gillette, and a collection of odd denominations by Edward Besaw.

At the meeting, eight new members were accepted, bringing the total membership to 89 actives.

Letters To The Editor

The Valley of the Sun Coin Club of Mesa, Ariz., is off to a flying start. Our first two meetings brought attendances of more than 100 each and we now have 82 paid up members with the expectation of at least 50 more by the end of June.

I have been delegated to extend you and your fine newspaper a warm vote of thanks for running a story about our first meeting. We also appreciated receiving complimentary copies of the Coin World (which, incidentally, should add several more subscriptions to your growing list).

Much of our initial success is due to the unstinting cooperation we received from the Phoenix Coin Club membership, its president, Dottie Dow, and Arizona's A.N.A. representative, Don Sherer. Don's guidance resulted in our club having already applied for A.N.A. membership.

Larry B. Marton, Director
Valley of the Sun Coin Club
Mesa, Ariz.

After reading Hank Bieciuk's column, in the April 20 edition of Coin World concerning reprints, and your refusal to accept ads, I cannot understand why you continue to accept ads that sell California souvenir gold tokens. I noticed seven different ads in this edition listing these tokens. I consider these ads very misleading and possibly fraudulent.

Would like to mention a few facts that I know about these tokens. They are not gold or solid gold. They are brass, gold plated by the cheapest possible method (tumble-plated), and are manufactured for less than one dime. Several ads even mention that they have solid gold tokens for sale.

Solid gold is 24 karat, not 14 karat or 10 karat. Coin gold is 22 karat. The dies used to strike these tokens were not made in the years 1857, 53, 54. See Numismatic Scrapbook, page 1168, December, 1948.

Two of my friends approached me recently, one a numismatist, who really believed the plated coins he bought were made of 22-K or coin gold. The other, a professional jeweler, made and sold a few of these gold plated pieces in bezels as genuine gold pieces. They believed the ads.

One man was arrested here a few months ago for selling these tokens as genuine gold pieces which the Cincinnati Police consider a fraud. Am wondering how many more innocent people will be victimized?

I believe a truthful ad would read as follows:

Brass tokens, gold plated, struck from original California dies or 10-K or 14-K gold tokens, struck from original California dies (not solid gold or coin gold).

Del Schuler
Norwood, Ohio

May I say that I am most impressed with your fine publication and that this feeling has increased with each succeeding issue. I thought issue No. 1 was superb; just the thing most needed by both the advanced and novice collector. However, each edition thereafter only tended to enhance this original observation.

Congratulations and thanks for doing such a marvelous job and for contributing so much to this fine hobby.

Not intending to take away from the above, but from my point of view, at least, your publication would be even more appealing if additional articles relating to the currencies of Canada could be included.

Enclosed please find my check in the amount of $5 for a further 104 weeks of excellent reading. Too, as you will note from the enclosed renewal form, I should like to take advantage of your bonus gift subscription, having such sent to a new, yet relatively dedicated collector of U. S. material.

R. W. Kishbaugh
Arlington Heights, Ill.

I have read your editorial on counterfeits and, of course, agree with you in every respect. However, you continue to accept news items and advertising for coins from James T. Mangan.

I consider his ads and coins an insult to the intelligence of the coin collectors. Such things are O.K. in comic books but have no place in grown-up society. I believe that papers such as yours should help to police such things. You can begin by not accepting his ads.

R. W. Brown
North St. Paul, 9, Minn.

I want to express disapproval of the sale and advertising of the "processed" steel cent. A steel cent that has been chemically treated so as to make it look like a genuine uncirculated coin is nothing but a fake and a counterfeit. The government should forbid the production of such spurious articles and I do not think coin magazines should advertise them.

E. C. Kennedy
Hughes Springs, Texas

A.V.A. Officials Again Nominated For New Year

All present officers of the American Vecturist Association have been renominated for the coming election, according to Daniel DiMichael, secretary of the A.V.A.

These include president, F. Gordon Smith; vice president, Roland C. Atwood; secretary, DiMichael; treasurer, R. K. Frisbee; curator, Edrick J. Miller.

Minneapolis is the site of the forthcoming A.V.A. convention, to be held August 5-6 at the Curtis Hotel.

Although one of the principal interests of the A.V.A. is the area of transportation tokens, President F. Gordon Smith said members are interested in many items.

He mentioned badges, bicycle tags, blank bank checks, buttons (railroad), U. S. and foreign coins, elongated freak cents, match covers, pens and pencils (advertising), postmarks, stamps, tax tokens, tickets and transfers, tooth picks, wooden nickels.

"A simple request for names of interested members or direct shipment will help some fellow member," he said. "A friend strives only to make others happy if he can."

The A.V.A. membership totals 214 with 31 life members. Newest life members are Edward M. Cutler and Richard H. Beimer.

Cereal City NCW Winners Announced

Winners in the first annual exhibits sponsored as part of its National Coin Week observance by the Cereal City Coin Club of Battle Creek, Mich., have been announced. The list follows:

U. S. coins: first, Norman T. Stahl; second, Mrs. Daniel P. Westcott and Larry V. Hawblitz; tied; fourth, Albert C. Brobafsky.

U. S. paper money: Norman Stahl, first; Frederick F. Wheeler and Ernest T. Casler, tied for second.

Foreign coins: Kenneth Reed, first; Mrs. Norman Schallberg, second.

Special displays: James O. Hurlburt, first; Frederick Wheeler, second, with James Krauchunas and Richard Lobitz tied for first in the Junior division.

J. Robert Hendricks was awarded a plaque for submitting the winning design to be used as the club insignia.

Also as part of the observance, the club had exhibits at the Security National Bank, the Kingman Museum, and the Willard Library and club president M. Merle Smith talked to a meeting of the Urbandale Kiwanis club on coin collecting.

Maryland money, under the proprietorship of Cecil, the second Lord Baltimore, is another American colonial coin worth mentioning. In Maryland tobacco had been a common medium of exchange, along with furs, powder and shot.

Civil War Exhibit Wins At Coast Coin Carnival

Milton C. Strauch, Daly City, Calif., took the Best in Show award for his Civil War era display entitled "The Union Divided", at the second annual Coast Counties Coin Carnival held in Santa Cruz, Calif., early in May, according to a report from co-chairman Denis N. Hooker.

Attendance was more than 1,100 registered, surpassing by a good margin the attendance in 1960. Bourse tables were occupied by 39 dealers from Washington and Oregon as well as California. Frank Roza Jr., Stockton, Calif., conducted a 350-lot auction at which 90 per cent of the material offered was sold.

One unexpected feature of the affair was the discussion of the possible organization of a Northern California Numismatic Association, using the Coast Counties clubs as a nucleus. Some 12 clubs agreed to join, at the start.

Awarded as a special prize was a 10-piece gold type set, valued at $400, which was won by San Francisco coin dealer Earl Parker. Other awards were given for the best exhibits in 12 different classifications, with judging done by a committee headed by Clifford L. Liss, president of the California State Numismatic Association. The winners follow.

Group I, U.S. and foreign gold: first, Ronnie Carr, Tulare, Calif., third, George Frost, Burlingame, Calif.; Group II, U. S. coins, first, Strauch; second, Sheldon Wirt, Los Altos; Group III, U. S. Paper money, first, Dorothy Beaulieu, San Jose; second, Gordon Rammer, Stockton; third, Rudy Gjurovich, San Jose.

Group IV, not given: Group V, modern foreign coins, first, John D. Sears, San Francisco. Group VI, not given. Group VII, ancient coins, to 700 A. D., first, no award; second, Roy Hill, San Francisco. Group VIII, medals and medallion art, first, Dorothy Beaulieu; second, John D. Sears. Group IX, not given.

Group X, Unusual media of exchange, first, Ernest A. Meyer, San Francisco, with a display of German inflation money, Westphalia 1923; Group XI, specialized displays, first, Roy Hill, "In a Mint"; second, John Sears, "Confederate". Group XII, professional, first, John Cobb, Mountain View; second, Merle E. Crandall, State Line.

The Coast Counties Coin Carnival was co-sponsored by the following clubs: Peninsula Coin Club, Palo Alto; Lockheed Coin Club, Sunnyvale; San Jose Coin Club, San Jose; Santa Cruz Coin Club, Santa Cruz, and Pajaro Valley Coin Club, Watsonville.

Cenla Group Holds Election

New officers of the Cenla Coin Club of Alexandria, La., were elected recently at the club's annual banquet, attended by 33 members. Two of the three were re-elected.

William Kearns, incumbent, was chosen to serve again as president, as was Allen Sloan as secretary-treasurer. New is William Rollo, vice president.

All three officers are also officers of the recently organized Louisiana State Numismatic Association, Kearns being its president, Rollo a director, and Sloan also occupying the same position in both groups.

Almost Everyone Prefers America's First Family of Coin Albums

THE LIBRARY OF COINS

By Any Standard. Still The Best!

Complete visibility and complete protection, the two most-wanted features of a coin album, are presented for the first time by THE LIBRARY OF COINS. Bound like books, handsome and compact, each Library of Coins volume displays and protects its coins between two sliding panels of clear, tough plastic. Each coin "porthole" has printed next to it full data on mint mark and quantity minted. Each volume contains a brief background story on the coins, giving both the novice and advanced collector helpful information, including a listing of the rare dates.

Measuring 8 1/4" x 6 1/4", the volumes are low priced, sturdily manufactured, and permanently bound in a variety of identifying colors for the various denominations. Their compact size permits the storing of a large coin collection in very small space. Backbones are clearly gold stamped so that they are as readily identifiable as are books.

The Library of Coins represents the first major innovation in high grade coin albums in more than 30 years, and was several years in development. Designed by numismatists, the Library of Coins is designed to satisfy the needs and desires of numismatists. Write for descriptive circular on the Library of Coins.

CIVIL WAR CENTENNIAL

1861

1961

The Coin and Currency Institute, Inc., of New York and California has been appointed sole national distributor of this medal, which commemorates officially the Centennial of the Civil War.

It will be available in both bronze and silver about May 31, 1961.

The medal, which is 2½ inches in size, is being issued under authority of the Civil War Centennial Commission, which was created by an Act of Congress. The medal will be struck by the Medallic Art Company from designs and sculptor's models that have been approved by the U.S. Government Fine Arts Commission in Washington, D.C.

As can be seen from the above illustration, the obverse bears the portraits of Gen. Ulysses S. Grant and Gen. Robert E. Lee. The reverse shows the seal of the Civil War Centennial Commission, having as its main theme, a Union and Confederate soldier. The medal will be sold in its own specially made container and will come with a printed, informative leaflet.

In addition to the bronze medal, there will be an issue of pure silver medals, which will be limited to 25,000 serially numbered pieces. The purity of the silver will be greater than .999 fineness.

PRICES OF THE CIVIL WAR CENTENNIAL MEDAL

The official prices of the Civil War Centennial Medal follow:

THE BRONZE CENTENNIAL MEDAL.... $4<sup>00</sup>

THE PURE SILVER CENTENNIAL MEDAL.... $30<sup>00</sup>

Please note: Because of the limited issue, the silver medals are offered subject to being sold out. Those wishing silver medals should place their order now. Earlier this year many thousands were disappointed when their orders for silver Inaugural medals were placed too late. Because of the overwhelming national interest in the Civil War, it is expected that the silver medals will be quickly sold out.

The bronze and silver medals will be available about May 31, 1961 at your local coin and stamp dealer, department store coin counters, hobby shops etc., or you may write to either our New York or California office. Established dealers wishing to carry this medal for resale should write to us at once for our terms.
